Leave it to the Experts.

We at Point Grey understand that for most people a home is their biggest investment, their biggest prize possession. A place that should depict strength, security, safety and above all provide a happy and comfortable residence for their loved ones. A place where dreams and memories will be created and a place that you will like to call home for many years to come.

For this reason, we believe there should be no compromises and the home should be right for you. Built in a way that accommodates your needs, tastes and lifestyle, while providing a well constructed, timeless, craftsman quality home.
